

This document determines the rules for the processing of personal data on the website www.foodtown.pl in relation with the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (“GDPR”).

1. The collector of personal data is the company: SFF SPÓŁKA Z OGRANICZONĄ ODPOWIEDZIALNOŚCIĄ SPÓŁKA KOMANDYTOWA with its registered office in Warsaw, J. Dąbrowskiego 46/1 Street, post code 02-561 Warsaw, entered into the Register of Entrepreneurs of the National Court Register kept by the District Court for the capital park of Warsaw in Warsaw, 13th Commercial Division of the National Court Register under KRS number: 0000844318, NIP (tax identification number): 5213898163 (“Collector”). Contact with the Controller may be made at the address indicated above or by e-mail sent to the following address: _____.

2. We inform you about the purposes of personal data processing and the legal basis when concluding contracts or collecting data via the contact form. Your personal data may be processed for the purposes necessary for: (i) conclusion and performance of the contract to which you are a party, or (ii) taking action at your request before concluding the contract, or (iii) responding to the inquiry regarding elements of the Controller’s commercial offer or matters related to the Controller’s activity, or (iv) fulfilment of the legal obligation incumbent on the Controller, or (v) purposes resulting from legitimate interests pursued by the Controller, as well as (vi) on the basis of your consent - for purposes consistent with the content of the consent granted (i.a. for the purpose of sending the newsletter). In each case, when the processing is based on the legitimate interest of the Controller, it may include: pursuing the Controller’s claims, defending against claims directed against the Controller, direct marketing of the Controller’s services, providing services or communicating with you. The legal basis for the processing of personal data results from the provisions of the GDPR, i.e. Article 6 clause 1 letters a), b), c) and f) of the GDPR.

3. Personal data may be stored for the period necessary to achieve the purposes indicated above, as well as the period of limitation of claims that may arise from the undertaken obligations. In the case of data processing on the basis of your consent – the storage of personal data will take place until the consent is withdrawn. If the law requires the prior deletion of your personal data or its longer storage, the Controller will comply with such a legal obligation.

4. You have the right to request from the Controller access to personal data concerning you, its rectification or supplementation, if the data are incorrect or incomplete.

5. You have the right to request the deletion of your personal data in any of the following cases:

5.1. the personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which the personal data were collected or otherwise processed;

5.2. the data subject has withdrawn the consent on which the processing is based and there is no other legal basis for the processing;

5.3. the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21 clause 1 of the GDPR and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing, or the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21 clause 2 of the GDPR;

5.4. the personal data have been unlawfully processed;

5.5. the personal data must be erased in order to comply with a legal obligation under Member State law to which the Controller is subject.

This does not apply in the case referred to in Article 17 clause 3 of the GDPR.

6. You have the right to restrict the processing of your personal data in any of the following cases:

6.1. the data subject disputes the accuracy of the personal data – for a period allowing the Controller to check the correctness of these data;

6.2. the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests instead that their use be restricted;

6.3. the Controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are needed by the data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims;

6.4. the data subject has objected to the processing pursuant to Article 21 clause 1 of the GDPR – until it is determined whether the legitimate grounds on the part of the Controller override the grounds for objection of the data subject.

7. You have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing of personal data (if the processing of personal data is based on your consent) at any time without affecting the lawfulness of the processing that was carried out on the basis of consent before its withdrawal.

8. If personal data are processed on the basis of Article 6 clause 1 letter f of the GDPR (i.e. for purposes resulting from legitimate interests pursued by the Controller), you may object to this processing, original or further, at any time, free of charge (Article 21 clause 1 of the GDPR). In the event of an objection, the Controller may no longer process such personal data, unless it demonstrates the existence of compelling legitimate grounds for processing overriding the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

9. If personal data are processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning you for the purposes of such marketing (Article 21 clause 2 of the GDPR). If the data subject objects to processing for direct marketing purposes, the personal data may no longer be processed for such purposes.

10. Your data may be made available to persons or entities authorized in accordance with applicable law, in particular at the request of public or judicial authorities in cases justified by law, as well as authorized entities, when it is necessary for the proper performance of the contract, e.g. providing data to the bank, investment contractor, notary office in connection with the signing of a notarial deed, property manager, IT service providers. Our suppliers are based in Poland and other countries of the European Economic Area (EEA). In connection with the use of Google Analytics, personal data is transferred outside the EEA (to the United States of America). In connection with the transfer of your data outside the EEA, the providers are obliged to guarantee an adequate level of protection of personal data. These guarantees result in particular from the obligation to use standard contractual clauses adopted by the European Commission of the EU. Information on the transfer of data by Google is available: <https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites?hl>.

11. You have the right to lodge a complaint with the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection if the processing of personal data concerning you violates the law (<https://uodo.gov.pl/p/kontakt>).

12. Predominantly, the personal data have been obtained from you (the personal data comes from the data subject); There may be cases where your data has been obtained from your employers, principals, clients or other principals.

13. Providing data is voluntary; for specific purposes specified in the relevant agreements that are concluded by the Controller, providing data may be necessary to perform specific transactions or activities.

14. The Controller's decisions are not made in an automated manner.

15. The Controller on the website uses cookies for statistical purposes, to track the operations performed by visitors on our website and to improve and personalize the user experience. There are two types of cookies – persistent cookies and session cookies. A session cookie is stored on the user's computer only when navigating the website. When you close your browser, session cookies are deleted. The Controller uses Google Analytics and this may be related to the collection of information about visits to the website, which are collected by Google from the accounts of logged in users (on Google) who have agreed to personalized advertising. The information collected by Google may be: your location, browsing history and information from websites that work with Google and is used to provide us with cumulative and anonymous insights into the behaviour of our customers. By using our website and accepting tracking and cookies, you knowingly agree to such a link. You can check or delete information about yourself on Google My Activity.

16. Persistent cookies are, for example, used to store the user's personal settings on the website so that the user does not have to repeat certain actions every time he or she visits the website. Session cookies are used to store statistical data on the use of the website. By using the website or by agreeing to our Privacy Policy and Cookie Information, you agree to cookies. If you do not agree to the use of cookies, you can disable the use of these cookies in the security/privacy settings of your browser. You can delete cookies from your computer's hard drive at any time. If you do not want cookies to be used, you can disable them in the settings tab of your browser (see your browser's help page for more information). In your browser, you can also delete cookies that have been saved in connection with previously visited websites.

17. Any changes to the privacy and cookie policy will be made available on this website.
